In Memoriam

GEORGE V. MOSKI

". . . . This is praise from the living,
From those who speak afterwards,
this the best fame after death,
That ere he departed he labored
and wrought worthy deeds;
. . . . so men shall extol him."

In Memoriam

MISS CATHERINE B. CASE

Truly an artist in her special field, Miss Case was loved by her pupils because she was an artist at making pupils into friends. She taught more than her subject; she taught the virtues of kindness — patience — cheerfulness — taught them by exemplifying these virtues in her own life.

"We cannot know how much we learn
From those who never will return,
Until a flash of unforeseen
Remembrance falls on what has been."

IN MEMORIAM

Captain Edmund P. Zbikowski

803rd Engineer Battalion

The death of Captain Zbikowski, a former faculty member, occurred April 2, 1942, as a result of wounds sustained in battle on the Bataan Peninsula, Philippine Islands.

You made the supreme sacrifice in defense of your beloved Country.
We, the Class of 1942, honor you . . .
As a hero — we salute you!

We feel that it is appropriate to pay tribute here to the other members of our faculty who are in the armed service. They, too, are willing to fight so that the freedom of expression which has made our education possible may continue a blessing of this land.

MEET THE SENIORS

RUTH ABEL
"Ruthie"

Class Poem

And destiny has come once more to lay her guiding hand
Upon the ones she's nourished and prepared for her command,
The destiny that guides the world has paused and whispered low,
You're ready now, my children, and as mature men go.

You're ready now, my children,
My faith, my hope, my truth
Have beckoned you and need you
As she needs all her youth.

There's work that's now surrounding
Work that young minds must do,
America is calling
And your destiny calls too.

In the factories and the shipyards
On each farm and in each field,
In the foundries and the dockyards
Make the blood of tyrants yield

To the greatest crop of peace seeds
And the produce of the young
Destiny is calling
Her doors are widely flung

To you and me and those
Who are breathless at the sight
Of the cloak of maturity
That wraps us up tonight.

Our destiny is calling, she has called us once before,
She has summoned nations and their faith again,
But tonight as she has stopped to knock upon our door
To our prayer and our destiny, we whisper, God, —— —— —— Amen.

Florence Hackman.

CLASS HISTORY

On September 7, 1938 the largest class in the history of Bristol High School was launched, even though it was bewildered and lost, on its high school career. It was hard at first to get used to the "ins" and "outs" of a typical high school. Moreover we were not an outstanding class, but just the normal class with a few outstanding members. The bell system, seventh periods, yellow cards, and our first high school report cards were amazing to most of us. However, we soon became accustomed to the routine and settled down to work.

One disadvantage was the fact that the Industrial boys were in the Senior High School while the rest of us were in the Freshman Building that year — in fact we have been separated throughout our high school career. However, those boys who had passed their examinations for the Industrial course found their work extremely interesting.

On September 21, 1938, we experienced a great disaster in this part of the country. That was the hurricane. Tragic though it was for many Bristol families, to us it proved to be merely an excuse for the omission of homework the next day.

Our class was very musical. First there was the freshman chorus. Of course at this time it has a distinct honor to be able to go down to the Senior Building to take part in any activities. "Art" Lorenson found himself doing just that sort of thing and oh, he was envied. "Bill" Coleman, another musically minded "rug-cutter," was known as the Gene Krupa of his class. He joined the band because he had no time for girls. Imagine! Little did we realize that George Atwood would some day become a great banjo or guitar player. It was certainly a distinction to have such a wonderful pianist in our class. "Len" Seeber was ever willing to play for us and because of his superb manner of tickling the keys he was chosen to represent our school as soloist at the Annual Spring Music Festival.

Also early in the fall we held what seemed to us to be a most important event—that of voting for our class officers. With the able assistance of Leo Fournier during the campaign, "Les" Lanning became president. "Ed" Sweeney ran close by receiving the position of vice-president. Room 12 did its bit toward contributing to the election for two of its members were chosen. Frances Crumb was chosen secretary and Jack Doyle treasurer.

A social affair in our freshman year was something to be marveled at. On December 9th we held our Freshman Party with amicable "Les" Lanning acting as master of ceremonies. Each one of us has fond memories of that most important event. On May 12 came the Tennis Club Dance. Few of us attended because boys had to be invited by girls and some of the girls seemed quite bashful, that is, that first year.

Our class had the gift of organization as was proved by Claire Sheldon. She founded the Sub-Debs, an organization which is still going strong. "Ed" Sweeney was selected as editor-in-chief of our newspaper, "The Mercury." Through "Ed's" endless hours of work a freshman paper went to press regularly. Many other freshmen achieved fame that first year. "Bob" Harris was a member of the track team and made a very good showing. Other familiar sights on the athletic field were "Bill" Innis, our football hero and George Simpson, the discus thrower. Even then the girls didn't let the boys get away with a thing. Harriet Undorf and Claire Sheldon made the girls' basketball team. Another kind of fame was achieved by "Char" Fleischner, who was sunning on the beaches of Florida that winter.

We left our freshman year prophesying that in 1950 "Dot" Gordon, that well known actress, was to give her one hundredth performance in "The Last Dawn." "Nate" Boyko was chosen most popular. "Ed" Sweeney, most likable; "Ken" Caddick the wittiest. Incidentally, he still runs high on the list while Barbara Allaire was noted for the fact that she wanted to be, of all things, a foreign correspondent. And so we started our long awaited vacation.

In September, 1939, when the Technical boys returned, they found that through the generosity of Mr. Fuller Barnes, who had given the Technical Building to the school, they had just the place they had been looking for. It took considerable time to make the necessary improvements, many of which improvements were made by the boys of the class of 1942. They deserve a lot of credit for putting their building in shape.

When the rest of us entered the senior building we had to acquaint ourselves with many new things. How were we ever going to learn which stairways to go up and which to go down; and which rooms were for seniors and which were for juniors. The building itself seemed immense. Certainly we could never learn the location of all of the rooms and the names of all of the teachers. Who would dare to venture up to third floor where there were senior home rooms only? And then there were those huge giants at every crook and turn—those boys with maroon armbands who kept saying, "No, I am sorry, this door is for seniors only," "No, Room 304 is not on the first floor," "Please do not loiter in the halls," and "Do not avoid circling the chair, please." Will you ever forget having gym two periods a week with a frantic rush to get dressed in two minutes flat?

For the first time we witnessed the regular Christmas assembly put on by the combined Glee Clubs and orchestra. With the spirit of Christmas in the air, "Art" Lorenson and "Bill" Coleman were asking Santa Claus to bring them some more height. But they really didn't need it, for they found out that size isn't the only thing in the world.

We did have a few outstanding athletes this year. "Jack" Hanrahan was our diving ace, while Florence Hackman and Elaine Miller were the tennis champions. Before we knew it, final exams came about and we were still resolving that next year we must do better.

To most of us the only difference between our sophomore and our junior year was the fact that we had to climb one more flight of stairs. This seemed to be a year of drives. First we had the annual Athletic Association drive; then came the Girls' Federation drive, the Bristol Hospital drive, the Help Greece drive, and the Bristol, England drive. However, no one can say that any one of them was not worthwhile. Another decision was made to combine all of the school newspapers into one issue bearing the name "Horizons," which was to be a much larger and better paper than this school had ever had. Certainly it has proved its worth especially this year with "Ed" Sweeney, Ruth Barba, and Florence Hackman as editors.

Social life was at its height when the French Club Dance was held. This semi-formal affair grew to be a custom which was anticipated by most of the school every fall. "Chris" Carroll did an excellent piece of work at the decorations. On November 15, the Dramatic Club gave its first performance in two years. "The Rivals" was a great success which gave some members of our class a chance to show what they can really do on the stage. Elaine Miller as Mrs. Malaprop did an especially good job in the leading role. Harriett Greene and "Russ" Huhn played in supporting roles. Another type of activity was the band which began to enlarge and improve. Soon we had an organization of which the whole school was proud. The band added a new brigade of beautiful girls. Under the able leadership of "Len" McCusker, the champion twirler of Bristol High, they showed their nimbleness by putting on a spectacular show at the games.

It seems as though our class has been one of epidemics of one kind or another. One of our class can never have anything but what we all have to have it. Such was the case with the flu epidemic. It certainly did get lonesome here with almost everyone sick in bed, although some of the Bernarr Macfaddens were able to stick it out. Our class also seemed to be one of conservatives for some people at least. Rex Greene, for one, issued the statement that spending money on girls was absolute foolishness.

Will you ever forget those simply exhausting two weeks in the spring of 1941 and especially that one week end of March 8th and 9th? First thought in everyone's mind was the basketball team. Then there was evaluation, the snow and all that goes with it. We went to New Haven to see our boys lose the State championship to Windham High School by a mere one point. I think that on that night more tears were shed over one point than ever have been before in history. Soon we followed our team to New Hampshire where they were able to "bring home the bacon." Will you ever forget that triumphant assembly when the team were presented with their honors? The band was playing and people were cheering. It was a scene which will long be remembered especially that moment when Paul Lowicki was announced as captain for the next year.

Those students who had contributed much to the school were initiated into the National Honor Society in May. We were proud to have ten of our class represented. They were Hugh Brady, "Char" Fleischner, Helen Freedman, Eleanor Guerin, Florence Hackman, Robert Hotchkiss, Aniela Rajewicz, Leonard Stanwood, "Ed" Sweeney, and "Dave" Totten. Our junior year ended with practically everyone securing a job for the summer. The war was coming nearer and nearer to our shores so this was one way in which we thought we could show our spirit of Americanism.

Bangs soon became the style and thus the scissors were oiled and were chopping away once more. Our senior class officers were chosen and the results were George Draper, president; Paul Lowicki, vice-president; Marilyn Goodale, secretary; and "Bill" Connolly, treasurer.

The sudden death of Mr. Moski was a genuine blow to the whole school especially to the boys of Technical Department. He was a friend to all the students and gave his every minute to the development of his department. His place has proved to be one that is difficult to fill.

On December 7, 1941, the life of every senior boy and girl changed. Within twenty-four hours the rapidity of our life had been stimulated to such a degree that we did not know what to expect next. Even though Pearl Harbor was thousands of miles away yet events there had an immediate effect upon us. Monday morning found boys wondering whether or not to enlist in one of the branches of the army. However, they came to the conclusion that just then there were many more important things that they could do right here at home. We were all anxious to do everything humanly possible to aid the struggle our nation had undertaken. Soon boys were shivering on Johnnycake mountain as plane spotters. Defense stamps were purchased every Wednesday morning. Air raid drills were held. Kits for Bristol Boys were sent. Girls were knitting for the Red Cross. It was also decided to hold two Tennis Club Dances and both were to be in the gym. Our basketball games were also held in the gym to the disappointment of many students. Colleges were going on a three year basis. Several members of the faculty of all buildings left for the service of their country. On April 7, we received the saddening news of the death of Mr. Zbikowski. The end of our senior year found us in great uncertainty as to what the future had to offer. But whether we accepted a job in the factory or whether we continued our education we were sure to continue our loyalty and service to our country.

Last Will and Testament

Be it known to all human beings, including the undergraduates, that we, the Senior Class of 1942, of the city of Bristol, County of Hartford, State of Connecticut, do hereby set forth and declare our last will and testament, thereby revoking and annulling all previous instruments by which our classmates are remembered.

We, the grateful Seniors, leave to Mr. Cottle and the faculty a deep appreciation for the splendid education, friendship, and enjoyment we have gained at Bristol High.

The Senior Class as a whole leaves a large dent in the student body which cannot be occupied by the less efficient underclassmen.

To the tired Juniors who have been left standing for the last two years, we leave our seats of honor in the auditorium.

To the Sophomores we, the magnificent Seniors, bequeath another flight of stairs to climb. You are rapidly approaching the top.

To the Freshmen we give a little more dignity and honor.

"Dapper Daniel Boone" Fanelli who has more nicknames than you or I have fingers leaves his football jersey to "Bill" Moore.

Paul Lowicki leaves his brilliant record in athletics in dear old B.H.S., especially basketball, to "Ken" Johnson of the Junior Class.

Arthur Behrendt leaves his stilts to John (Cotton Tail) Pittman.

"Bill" Coleman, Bristol High's "Gene Krupa," leaves his ability and efficiency as leader of the school band to Donald Pease, directorof the "Dead Beats."

Captain "Jim" Heffernan and his troop of traffic squad officers leave their ability to bewilder the incoming Freshmen and their "efficiency" to hand out tickets and summons to next year's captain and squad.

"Dick" Redman leaves a few more inches to Bill "Knute" Marco of the Junior Class.

Professor "Bob" Hotchkiss leaves one or two of his 100% averages to "Mike" Benjamin.

"Dot" Marsh leaves her tall stories and very ancient jokes to "Jerry" Kerr.

"Bill" Innes leaves a fine record on the football team and in the school records to "Joe" Tinelli.

Rita Goulet leaves her gift of gab on a silver platter to Barbara Phelan.

Chief Justice "Les" Lanning leaves a few of his traffic court sentences to Charlie McCann.

"Tilly" Goodale, secretary of the class for the past three years, leaves her various jobs and activities in the school to "Dot" Cook. and "Peggy" Harris. It will take those two girls to accomplish the work that "Tilly" did.

"Jack" Sullivan leaves his ability of residing in Plainville and living in Bristol. P.S.—You can do it if you have the bus fare.

George (Tuba) Atwood bequeaths his gossip and artistic work on the "Tech" Bulletin to Lawrence Dion.

"Billy" Goodrich regretfully leaves his taxi service between Senior High and Tech to Frank Gienty.

Dorothy Gordon of "The Wagging Tongue" fame leaves her "feature" writings in the "Horizons" to Theresa Morocco of the Junior Class.

Henry Natunewicz, Bristol High's No. 1 sports prophet, leaves his excellent work as sports editor to Lyman Dawe.

"Bill" Connolly, one of Bristol High's outstanding athletes, leaves his fine record to "Dick" Doucette of the Junior Class.

Leonard Seeber, Bristol High's Paderewski, bequeaths his excellent piano playing to Alexander Caruso of the Freshman Class.

"Ed" Sweeney leaves his serious outlook on life to "Bob" Adams of the Sophomore Class.

Jane Fitz leaves a little of her vim and vitality to Lois Segretto, our aquatic maid.

Florence Hackman leaves a few of her choice lines—in debating—to Enid Hobbs of the Junior Class.

Hugh "Ham" Brady, the boy who doesn't like his name pronounced "Hug," leaves a few pointers on how to gain entrance to the National Honor Society to "Killer" Telke.

Victor Skonesky, one of the school "bank's" best tellers, leaves a few of his accounts and figures to Carmen Battisti.

George Draper, president of this year's graduating class, leaves his pleasing personality and all his achievements in the Student Cabinet to next year's leader.

Harriette Undorf leaves her position as No. 1 Girl Athlete of B.H.S. to Blanche Boyce of the Junior Class.

Captain "Jack" Hanrahan of the Swimming Team makes way for "Dick" Wilcox.

"Chink" Roberts, the man who says the wrong things at the wrong time, leaves this peculiar trait to Anita Tober.

Elmore "Daisy" Day bequeaths his fine "acting ability" to Harold White of the Junior Class.

David Totten bequeaths his high averages and home work assignments to "Muskrat" Machurat. May he use them well.

"Mickey" McCusker, our band major, leaves his baton swinging to all his little majorettes. May they be true to tradition and try to follow in his footsteps.

"Pip" Marseglia leaves his ability to win all feminine hearts to "Bob" Valentine.

Leonard Stanwood leaves his pack of gum (you can ask him what brand) to Corrine Spell of the Junior Class. May she chew as well as he did.

Won't someone take Harriette Greene's yawn and bury it?

"Sis" Crumb bequeaths her quick retaliations to "Eddie" Kuss.

"Bill" Provost, the boy who spends a great part of his time in the corridors—we wonder why—relinquishes his position as head of the Commercial Club and its activities.

Jack Doyle, who has set many a girl's heart a-flutter—particularly one—leaves this unfading ability to Dennis Rich.

"Kenny" Caddick, our Senior Comedian, leaves that broad grin and loud chuckle to "Bob" Johnston of the Sophomore Class.

Elaine Miller leaves that incessant giggle to Lillian Netti.

Ruth Barba leaves her journalistic abilities and triumphs to Angelina Spinelli.

"Joe" Lynch, athlete par excellence, leaves his ability in sports and in gaining many friends to Lorin Holden.

Eustace Mele, Coach Monahan's right hand man when it comes to managing, leaves to make room for "Franny" Nicoletti of the Junior Class.

Vito "Killer Diller" Coppi leaves his women—all of them—to Donald Greene.

"Chris" Carroll stops walking through the corridors of B.H.S. and makes way for "Dave" Strong.

"Katy" De Thomas leaves her daily use of the mirror on the third floor to Betty Hultman of the Sophomore Class.

To anyone who takes Senior Science next year, Joseph Serratore leaves his best wishes.

George Simpson and Leo "Curley Top" Kaczynski leave their captainship of the soccer squad to "Dick" Bezanson.

Captain "Joe" Desmarais leaves to "Billy" Carty the cross country team to be run as efficiently as it has been this year.

Leo Fournier leaves his sale of Defense Stamps. May you all take his gift and use it to the best of your ability.

Herbert Ristow leaves his artistic ability to "Betty" Hannon.

The two "inseparables," Harry McKinstry and "Joe" Toropilo, leave fine memories of Tech High.

Helen Kiamos leaves her sharp, shiny, long and bold lacquer fingernails to Dora Germella of the Junior Class.

Ray Rubinowski, a great player on the basketball floor, leaves that modesty and bashfulness that we all admire to "Bill" Tracy.

The Senior Class at Tech leaves a more modern and a better building to the new comers that they may prepare themselves for future work. May they use their golden opportunity.

"Midge" Becker leaves her window-shattering laugh to anyone who can do justice to it. You must do a good job, however.

Walter Litwinczyk leaves his sway over the Science Stock Room at Tech to Earl Isham.

Lena Ghio, the Eleanor Powell of the Senior Class, leaves her dancing shoes to anyone who can possibly fill them.

Joseph Dunbar leaves his toy chemistry set to Albin Kazanowski, the mad scientist.

"Jim" Cavalieri leaves his life long ambition to get on the honor roll to "Jimmy" Pagliarulo. May he use this bequest and try to do it.

Lorraine Diell, the girl so popular with the Tech boys, leaves that flush in her face, it's not from the cold either, to Mildred Butler of the Junior Class.

Paul Smith leaves charge of the Visual Education office to Leland Hanson.

Chief Heckler No. 1, Bill King, leaves his wise cracks and pesty notions to "Nobie" Pierce of the Sophomore Class.

Lois Hutchinson, our class beauty, bequeaths her large dreamy eyes to "Lizzie" Gamble of the Sophomore Class.

Marilyn McCooey leaves to "Frankie" Jeglinski the mascotship of the basketball team. The boys won't be sorry.

"Jim" Whitehouse, the boy who must use "bobby pins" to keep his hair from falling leaves this year's crop. Who would want it,though?

John Rybinski leaves—in a hurry—before it's too late.

In testimony whereof, we have set our hand and seal to this, our last will and testament on the Fifth Day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-two, the seventh month after the beginning of the Second World War, and of the Independence of the U.S., the one hundred and sixty-sixth.

Signed by the Senior Class of 1942.

By Arthur Lorenson.

Sworn before me this 5th Day of June, in the year nineteen hundred and forty-two in the presence of the said Senior Class of the Bristol High School and in the presence of me before the Bristol High School Traffic Court vested in such authority by the Student Cabinet.

Lester Lanning, Judge.

To Corrine Spell we bequeath the honor of being executor of this, our last will and testament. It is her job to see that the bequests are carried out and accomplished to the best of her ability.

This year the Student Court has been more active than any previous court in Bristol High. Students who violated school rules were arrested and summoned into court by members of the Traffic Squad. At regular sessions, the first and fifteenth of each month, these students were tried and sentenced.

The Court met with great success and became one of the most respected organizations in the school.

Instead of the usual one Tennis Club Dance, the Girls' Federation sponsored two this year: one in April and another in May. Other events included a senior class supper, class parties and teas, a fashion show, a talent show, and a "Gay Nineties Party." During the second half of the year "Service Day" was held once a week when the members met to knit for the Red Cross.

Debating Club

The Debating Club under the supervision of Mr. Joseph Burns has had a program of varied activities this year: speaking for the Community Chest, presenting a student assembly, appearing on radio programs, entering Interscholastic Debates, and competing in the Debate Clinic. The aim of the Club is to aid the speaking ability of its members.

Commercial Club

The work of the Commercial Club has become increasingly important in its effort to supplement the work of the Job Training Courses. During the year the Club enjoyed demonstrations of many business machines and some very interesting and instructive talks by business men.

International Relations Club

The purpose of the International Relations Club, sponsored by Miss Ruth Crockett, is to bring about a better understanding of foreign nations. The members, some of whom correspond with persons of foreign countries, have centered their attention this year on the Latin American countries. Discussions, in which groups participate, and student programs concerning South America have been very interesting.

After listening to talks given by nurses, doctors, and other professional people connected with medicine, the members of the Nurses' Club are better able to decide whether nursing is the field they wish to follow.

This group helps at the hospital giving out visiting cards, wrapping Christmas gifts, and making menus.

Le Triangle Mystique

The aim of the French Club is to promote an interest in the customs, language, art, and literature of the French people. This club again sponsored the Semi-Formal Dance which proved to be one of the most colorful events of the school year.

German Club

The German Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Agnes Jennings, provides an opportunity for German students to speak and understand the language better. The meetings alternate between business meetings and entertainment, which consists of guest speakers and sometimes "movies." Since the club bought its recorder, the members enjoy making records of poems, stories, and songs.

Omega Delta Phi

The Scientific Club of Bristol High School is the Omega Delta Phi. Under the guidance of Mr. Allan B. Smith the members hold regular meetings during which demonstrations are given. One of the yearly features is an exhibition, an affair stimulating the pupils' interest in science.

Radio Club

Because of a government ban on all radio communications, the members of the Radio Club decided to have a course of instruction in code and radio theory. This course has been under the supervision of Hugh Brady, president. The training that the members have received this year will probably prove of great value in army work and civilian defense.

Bristol High School Band

The Bristol High School Band has risen to a membership of ninety-four students, including the first and second bands and the newly adopted majorette section. It has acquired new instruments, new talent, and some classical music.

The Band has made a number of public appearances and was represented in the All-State-Band.

Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs

The Girls' and the Boys' Glee Clubs conducted by Miss Azilda Hebert are the two musical organizations of Bristol High School.

Each year the combined clubs have presented a Christmas assembly which is always beautifully done. In the spring all efforts are turned toward a program for the public.

In addition to singing, the Glee Clubs enjoy giving parties for the faculty and club members.

Library Club

Although it is one of the newest organizations in Bristol High School, the Library Club, under the guidance of Miss Gertrude Cone, has become one of the most helpful clubs. It was organized for two purposes: first, to aid students who are going to higher schools of learning and second, to teach the student body, in general, more about library work.

The club, which has had many interesting speakers at its bi-monthly meetings, has been of great benefit to its members.

The Tech Bulletin

The Tech Bulletin is an eighteen page mimeographed newspaper published monthly by a group of boys at the Technical Department.

The aim of the paper is to inform students about school activities and to establish a strong school spirit.

Ushers' Club

The work of the Ushers' Club, which is one of Bristol High School's service clubs, has become increasingly more important. Besides the regular duty of ushering at the school functions, the members of the Club were of great assistance at the basketball games.

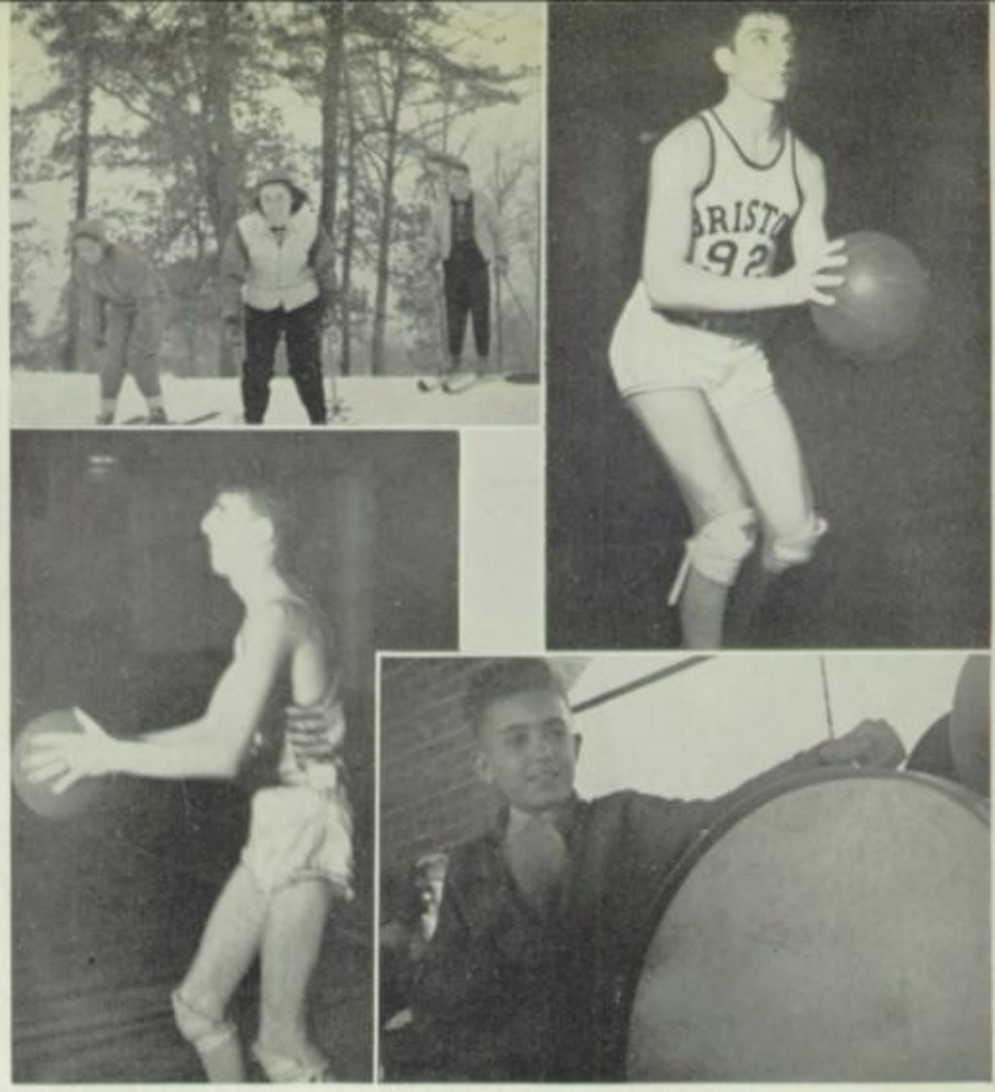
Football

The B.H.S. football team was handicapped with several injuries this year, yet it managed to gain first place in the C.C.I.L. together with Middletown and Meriden. Under the able leadership of Co-captains Jake Scalia and Dan Fanelli the team pulled off some nice plays against very strong opposition. Bill Connolly, our star fullback, was among the outstanding in the state for his beautiful running, passing, and kicking.

Basketball Team

Our team played some very good basketball during the season, winning 12 games and losing 8. Bristol again qualified for entry in the State Tournament, but was eliminated by Warren Harding in the playoffs.

Captain Paul Lowicki, the major star, was the only veteran from last year's five.



Basketball

Soccer

This year the booters had very strong competition, but they succeeded in copping second place in the C.C.I.L. The team will sorely miss Co-captains George Simpson and "Curly" Kaczynski, Paul Lowicki, "Ed" Arden, "Matt" Czaplicki, and Manager "Tockey" Mele, who has held his position for four consecutive years. This same team ranked among the best in the state for two consecutive seasons, and all the boys did a great job.

Cross Country

The harriers had a good combination but met very strong opposition. All the boys worked hard for their victories, losing some of their meets by only two or three points. Captain "Joe" Desmarais, "Bob" Harris, "Chuck" Suhovski, John Denning and "Teddy" Adamczyk led the team on to victory, With some promising sophomores and juniors coming up, next year's team should be quite successful.

Track

Third row: Lyman Dawe, John Marki, Phil O'Rourke, Mr. Marsh, coach, Arthur Peterson, Emil Anderson, Hugh Brady.

The track team was rather handicapped by the loss of stars from the Tech Building, but with the material on hand Coach Marsh had a rather strong squad. Russ Huhn, Bob Harris, and a few outstanding Freshmen, together with last year's remnants of the squad, were the mainstays of our team, and the whole combine worked together like a great team.

First row: Gilbert Bullock, Raymond Zaremba, Raymond Fortier, Eugene Williams, Richard Grady, William Wood.

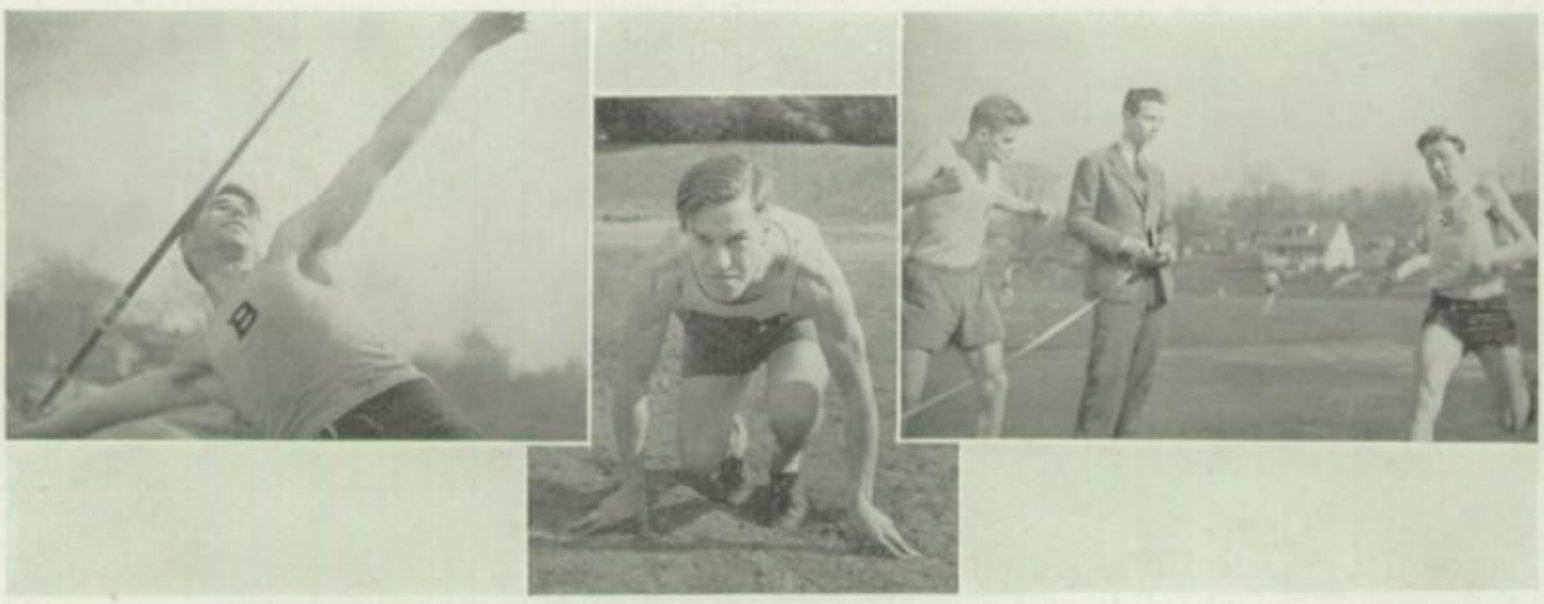
Swimming

This year Bristol High had an exceptionally good swimming team. With Jack Hanrahan as captain the team won its first C.C.I.L. championship. Walt Litwinczyk, Bob Kilpatrick, Bob Harris, and Dick Ploski were the outstanding free style men, and Jack Hanrahan was "tops" in diving.



First row: Raymond Fanelli, Kenneth Johnson, Alfred Lorenzetti, Captain, William Moore.

Second row: Lee McCall, Richard Redman, Matthew Czaplicki, Francis Nicoletti.

Third row: William Innes, Harry Hintz, Joseph Witlicki, Eugene Kulowski, Lester Lanning, Louis Fucini, William Tracy.

Baseball Team

The Bristol High baseball team, although composed almost wholly of new players, had remarkable success in the C.C.I.L. With Captain Al Lorenzetti and pitcher Harry Hintz pacing the squad, Coach Monahan's boys did much more than was expected of them.

Tennis Team

The tennis team showed remarkable form and net play, considering the loss of all first year's veterans. Dave Strong, Ace Bailey, Gene Williams, Henry Natunewicz, and a few other outstanding net men kept the team going against enormous odds. After a rather shaky start the tennis boys came back with a fine exhibition of court play towards the end of the season.

First row: Leonard Seeber, Co-captain, Carter Chamberlin, Vincent Penikas, Joseph Vanasse, Patsy DiBiase.

Second row: Alton Jones, Worthing Snow, Co-captain, Mr. Dorsey.

Golf Team

Our golf team proved to be the most experienced athletic squad of the Spring season. With the veterans Carter Chamberlin, Leanard Seeber, Worthing Snow, Harry Bradley, and a few new comers, the golfers enjoyed quite a successful season.

The Girls' Swimming Club

The Girls' Swimming Club has carried on its usual program of practice and playdays held with other girls' swimming clubs. It has also sponsored swimming and diving lessons for the girls of Bristol High School who wish to learn how to swim or dive.

Archery Club

First Row: Ann Riley, Mary Bachman, June Olie, Barbara Monckton, Edna Brandt, President; Eleanor Broderick, Secretary; Marie O'Connell, Madeline Casaconte, Jane Ferguson.

Second Row: Anna Armento, Ann Haden, Frances Jeglinski, Eleanor Spooner, Ruth Guilliam, Rachael Quinnon, Dot Contrastan.

Third Row: Florence Spielman, Adeline Wentland, Dorothy Semrow, Mildred Zahnke, Gloria Ebb, Patricia Stewart, Catherine Bullock.

The Archery Club is rapidly becoming one of the more popular clubs of Bristol High.

The members meet on the athletic field in the fall and spring. Besides these regular meetings for practice, they participate in many tournaments.

Formerly it was strictly a girls' club, but the boys have recently been admitted.

OUR NEIGHBOR—LATIN AMERICA

Our neighbors of Latin America live in twenty independent and highly individual countries and a few possessions of England, France and the Netherlands. Their lands, three times as large as the United States, stretch for more than 6000 miles from our own Rio Grande boundary to Cape Horn. The original inhabitants were American Indians, among them the Incas. Mayas, and Aztecs. Their progress in architecture and the arts has caused them to be compared to the Greeks, whose civilization was one of the greatest the world has ever known. The riches of these natives, particularly their gold, led to their conquest and domination by Spanish and Portuguese explorers from 1492 when Columbus made his first voyage to America up through the 1800's. Today all of the independent countries fly republican flags.

Their peoples are descendants of the Indians, the Spaniards, the Portuguese, and negroes imported from Africa. Their common language is Spanish although the Brazilians speak Portuguese. Their common religion is that of the Catholic Church. Their coastal lowlands, jungles, high mountain ranges and plateaus with their population of approximately 120,000,000 people represent the greatest uncrowded land on the globe.

These Latin American countries are all very rich in raw materials. Their standards of living vary, however, with the kind of wealth they have. Most of them are basically one-product countries. Among those we know best, there's Brazil, living principally on coffee, Bolivia on tin, Venezuela on oil, Argentina on beef, Mexico on silver, and Chile on copper and nitrates.

For years the United States has competed with these countries to the south because we produce many of the same goods, and we have bought from their competitors. For instance, we have taken our rubber and tin from the Far East; and Latin America, unable to compete, has undeveloped supplies of these important materials. Consequently, South American trade has been largely with Europe. Today we face our enemies, Germans, Italians and Japanese, in business there.

In 1824 by our Monroe Doctrine we announced we would tolerate no foreign invaders in this hemisphere. Unfortunately, we did not try to become acquainted with our neighbors so they called our policy "North American Imperialism," for they thought we were trying to dominate them.

Recently we have begun to give Latin America our recognition. We have a Pan-American Union for the promotion of friendly relations. We are trading with their countries and are beginning to appreciate their culture.

They are to be commended for the loyalty they showed at the Rio de Janeiro Conference last January when their representatives voted to sever diplomatic relations with our Axis enemies. That recommendation was carried out in all but two of those countries.

We should know these people, for they are worthy of our friendship by their own generosity. In the present crisis they are very important to us. They are on our southern border. Of a list of fourteen stategic materials vital to our ultimate victory, released by our War Department, Latin America can supply us all of these except silk. The approaches to our important life-line between the Atlantic and Pacific, the Panama Canal, are surrounded by those neighbors of ours and must be protected from their shores.

Eleanor Jeanne Guerin.

Valedictory

"IN OURSELVES OUR FUTURE LIES."

The problem of creating better understanding between the United States and South America is not an easy one, but the rewards will far outbalance the great efforts which will be necessary. One of the difficulties in our path is the fact that, although almost all of the South American countries have the same racial background—and that is closely connected with Europe—they differ widely in respect to government, products, and policies. Another difficulty is the fact that we in the United States have had too little interest in South America except as a land which might be exploited. Yet, in the last four years, Latin America has shown itself more friendly toward the democracies than toward the dictatorships.

The choice of this South American theme is only one small part of the growing program which is being conducted to improve our relations with these countries. Bristol High School, for example, next year will offer a course in Spanish. Other schools, encouraged by our government, are providing opportunities to study Portuguese, Latin-American history, and South American relations. Students are being exchanged between North and South American universities. The United States, because of its progress in engineering and science, is sending professors and chemists to aid South Americans in their problems. The radio has proved itself to be of great value in cultivating better relations. For example, a major broadcasting company has offered, in one week, as many as seven programs dealing with South America. Surely after the war, many more people will spend their holidays among the beauties which these programs now bring to us. All this is being done in the belief that knowledge leads to understanding and sympathy.

But, with this understanding and this sympathy, we should be careful not to force our ideals of democracy upon them. Because of climate, because of racial differences, because of lack of educational opportunities as we know them, their way of life is and must be very different from ours. The South American's idea of democracy differs widely from our own. He believes not in personal liberty for the citizen but rather in political liberty for the state. If our sympathy is true sympathy and if our understanding is true understanding, we shall respect these differences and try to aid the people, not reform them according to our ideals.

The class of 1942 will do well to remember its motto, "In Ourselves Our Future Lies," so that it will not be North America which is at fault if hemisphere relations are not improved. Certainly conditions must not be allowed to slip back to those of that disgraceful period immediately preceding this world conflict. Then we almost ignored South America economically and culturally. Yet, in spite of this fact, the Latin American countries have, for the most part, shown themselves to be more than willing to accept the friendship of the United States. It is, therefore, the duty and the privilege of all Americans but especially of this class of 1942, and every other class of 1942 across our great country, to create and preserve a more perfect understanding between the Americas than has ever before been known.

Robert N. Hotchkiss.

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY

College of Liberal Arts

Offers young men a broad program of college subjects serving as a foundation for the understanding of modern culture, social relations, and technical achievement. The purpose of this program is to give the student a liberal and cultural education and a vocational competence which fits him to enter some specific type of useful employment.

College of Business Administration

Offers young men a college program with broad and thorough training in the principles of business with specialization in Accounting, Journalism, Banking and Finance, Public Administration, Industrial Administration or Marketing and Advertising. Instruction is through lectures, solution of business problems, class discussions, motion pictures and talks by business men.

College of Engineering

Provides for young men complete college programs in Engineering with professional courses in the fields of Civil, Mechanical (with Aeronautical, and Air Conditioning options), Electrical, Chemical, Industrial Engineering. General engineering courses are pursued during the freshman year; thus the student need not make a final decision as to the branch of engineering in which he wishes to specialize until the beginning of the sophomore year.

Co-operative Plan

The Co-operative Plan, which is available to upperclassmen in all courses, provides for a combination of practical industrial experience with classroom instruction. Under this plan the student is able to earn a portion of his school expenses as well as to make business contacts which prove valuable in later years.
